OpenLearn

The Open University

Statement of participation

Amanda George

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Information on the web

This 15-hour free course taught the basic skills of internet research, how to assess the information being sought and reference it for study purposes.

Issue date: 26 March 2018

www.open.edu/openlearn

COURSE CODE: T180_5

OpenLearn

Information on the web

Course summary

The World Wide Web is a vast information resource. This free course, Information on the web, will provide you with the foundation skills to use search engines confidently to locate both information and images on the Web. You will also learn how to critically assess and reference the information you have found for study purposes.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- use search engines confidently to locate information and images on the web
- address critically resources that have been located on the web
- describe some of the processes underlying search engines.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Information on the web

Section 2

Conclusion